So what is it...?

A screenshot from the game Fortnite showing characters in a battle royale environment. One character is in the foreground, and others are visible in the background.

Fortnite is an online shooter that starts with 100 players and leaves one winner standing. Battle Royale sees 100 players parachute onto an island, and the last player alive wins. Each game lasts about 20 minutes.

It has a PEGI rating of 12, for 'frequent scenes of mild violence'

The game is violent – it is a battle to the death, after all – but the violence is rather cartoon-like - it isn't bloody or particularly gory

The screenshot shows a news article from The Telegraph. The headline reads: 'Fortnite game craze is putting children at risk from online paedophiles, NCA warns'. The article text includes: 'The law enforcement agency says voice and text chats between players over the internet cannot be turned off, meaning that users and data are exposed to children on chatting to strangers online. The game, which features up to 100 players battling to be the last person alive in a place to play "Survival" in a game highly popular in the UK, will allow young people said to be disrupting school lessons because they are so addicted.' 'Now the NCA has intervened to make adults aware of the dangers. A spokesperson said: "Fortnite is immensely popular with children and teenagers across the country. It features voice and text chat which cannot be turned off, so it's important that parents and teachers understand the risks broader risks associated with the game and enable safe playing.'" 'Last month, a mother from Merseyside told how she intervened when her 12-year-old son was offered £50 to perform "sex acts" while playing the game by a man grooming him online.'

National Crime Agency...

...has warned Fortnite is putting children at risk from online paedophiles due to the chat facility.

Although the game itself seems pretty harmless, players can talk and type whatever they want to each other, and bad language is rampant.

March 2018, a mother from Merseyside told how she intervened when her 12-year-old son was offered £50 to perform "sex acts" while playing the game by a man grooming him online.

Advice for parents on Fortnite...

Be aware that there is mild violence - PEGI rating of 12

Monitor who your child is talking to - check the communication settings

Set up passwords on bank cards - lots of game purchase options

Set up time limits on how long they spend playing...

Gaming becomes the latest addiction
19 June 2018

Children hooked on addictive video games like Fortnite will be able to seek treatment on the NHS, after video gaming is classified as a medical disorder by the World Health Organisation (WHO).

The move comes amid increasing evidence of young players suffering psychological distress and family breakdown as a result of their addiction.

The World Health Organisation's classification of gaming disorder as a condition which is capable of debilitating addiction is an important moment in the shifting relationship between technology and society.

Concern among parents about the impact of smartphones in particular, and the response of technology firms to those concerns, has become a staple of the news agenda.

Your one-minute guide to staying safer on Yubo

A social network that helps keep 13+ teens safe all over the world. 3m+ teens log on each day.

Did you know? Friendships are changing: More than half of US teenagers have made a new friend online and most of those friendships never cross into the real life.

Our five-step approach to user safety:

- 1 Sign-up: Minimum age of 13, real identity and mobile number required. Accounts community are 13 to 19 year-olds. Community guidelines provided to engage and welcome our users.
- 2 Profile Settings: Users can hide their city and choose to share location with certain friends.
- 3 Community Guidelines: To keep the Yubo community as friendly and safe as possible, we have strict guidelines on harmful content, bullying and other inappropriate behaviour are not allowed.
- 4 Moderation: We use technical tools and human moderators to keep an eye on things.
- 5 Reporting: We've made it easy for our users and our moderators to report any accounts using the app so that we can take action.

Did you know? Users who violate our community guidelines receive a warning message and we might also remove the offending content, block them and, where necessary, contact law enforcement.

Three things to do right now:

- Talk: Talk to your child or students about their digital likes and dislikes.
- Encourage: Encourage them to report themselves and others online.
- Reassure: Reassure them that they are not alone if something worries them.

Online Dating

Yubo

Yubo allows you to meet new people around the world. Make new friends, chat and meet new people! Right to like, left to pass! Just like Tinder... if two people like each other's pictures they can chat privately!

GROOMING

Child Exploitation Online Protection Centre (CEOP)

How do offenders engage youngsters?
- by using the sites that they use....

Often posing as a child of the same age / gender. They will often purposefully present a very similar profile as the child. They are skilled at manipulating them into criminal sexual relationships

Online grooming: The five stages

1 Friendship

Flattering a child

into talking in a private chatroom/game where they will be isolated

The child will often be asked for a non-sexual picture of themselves

Online grooming: The five stages

Forming a relationship

Gaining information

asking the child what problems /needs they have to create the illusion of being their best friend and that they can help
They begin to fill the needs of the child

Online grooming: The five stages

Risk assessment

Asking the child about the location of their computer/tablet and who else has access to it in order to assess the risk of being detected. The desire is to create situations where they are alone together to help reinforce a special connection

Online grooming: The five stages

Exclusivity

Building up a sense of mutual love and trust with the child suggesting that they can discuss "anything"

Online grooming: The five stages

Sex talk / Meet

Engaging the child in explicit conversations & requesting sexually explicit pictures from them
At this stage the predator will usually try to arrange a meeting with the child

Henri Pinney (22) groomed dozens of boys after posing as teenage girls on social media.

He set up various fake accounts, using names like Chelsea and Courtney.

Sentenced to 8 years in prison

Ricardo Dias-Cyrino (56) groomed three girls he met on a mobile phone app and used the name 'Cuddly Daddy'.

Dias-Cyrino set up a fake online account in the name of a girl called Katie who spoke about how enjoyable sex with him was.

Sentenced to 6 years in prison

When people talk about sexting, they usually mean sending & receiving...

Naked pictures or 'nudes'...

...'underwear shots'...

...sexual or 'dirty pics'...

...rude text messages or videos.

Why do children send inappropriate images / videos?

There are many reasons why a young person may want to send a naked/semi-naked picture, video or message to someone else...

- A joining in because they think that 'everyone is doing it'
- B boosting their self-esteem
- C flirting with others and testing their sexual identity exploring their sexual feelings
- D to get attention and connect with new people on social media
- E they may find it difficult to say 'no' if somebody asks them for an explicit image, especially if the person asking is persistent

Blackmail, bullying and harm

Blackmail
An offender may threaten to share the pictures with the child's family and friends unless the child sends money or more images

Bullying
If images are shared with their peers at school, the child may be bullied

Sexting can leave young people vulnerable to...

Emotional distress
Children feel embarrassed and humiliated. If they're very distressed this could lead to isolation or self-harm

Unwanted attention
Images posted online can attract the attention of sex offenders, who know how to search for, collect & misuse images

THINGS TO THINK ABOUT BEFORE SENDING A PHOTO OR VIDEO

Before pressing the send button, here are a few things to think about.

- What could happen to it? ✓
- Who might see it? ✓
- What are the risks? ✓
- What do you want to send? ✓
- Who are you sending it to? ✓

Advice...

Once you send a message you can't control what happens to it. Don't let someone guilt or pressure you into sending it

If you've sent a nude pic, have an honest conversation with the person you sent it to. Ask them to delete it

If an indecent or nude pic of you is posted online, you can contact the website directly or make a report online to try and get it removed.

Statistics range between 15 and 40 % of young people being involved in sexting, depending on their age and the way sexting is measured.

- Threat comes mostly from peers
- Sexting is often coercive
- Girls are the most adversely affected
- Technology amplifies the problem

MYTHS ABOUT SEXTING

(e.g. it is mostly boys who send indecent photos...?)

THE LAW....

Protection of Children Act 1978
Makes it an offence to take, make, show, distribute, possess (with a view to distribute) or publish an advertisement with an indecent photograph or pseudo-photograph of a child under the age of 18.

Criminal Justice and Courts Act 2015 section 33
Makes it an offence to share private sexual photographs or films with the intent to cause distress.

LAW

Criminal Justice Act 1988 part XI
Makes it an offence to possess indecent images of children.

Sexual Offences Act 2003
Lists sexual offences and their definitions. If an image being shared is of a sexual act, police must find out whether a sexual offence has been committed and act accordingly.

Police have only recently started filing crime reports about sexting...

If school choose to take an incident to the police, then officers must record the crime.

MAKING THINGS SAFER

Tips for parents....

Create boundaries and rules for the amount of time child can spend online. It's never too early to start putting limits in place.

The rules and conversations you have now will set the tone for your child's internet use as they get older.

Always worth checking the videos, apps and games children use, and the age ratings and descriptions for them.

Videos on YouTube that seem to be the favourite cartoons of children - but are not.

“Peppa does a lot of screaming and crying and the dentist is just a bit sadistic and it's just way, way off what a three-year-old should watch” said one Mother.
